

Hillcrest Bay Television

January 22, 2011

A few inquires on the status of the Hillcrest Bay television have been made as to why it is no longer sending pictures.

The equipment that provided limited television starting some 30 years ago to our community is no longer in service due to:

- 1) The sending and receiving units are set up to broadcast analog TV, they are not compatible with the digital television signal of today.
- 2) The replacement of all of the systems necessary to receive and to send a digital signal, would incur a cost not worth the resultant television picture compared to today's satellite TV.
- 3) The company, Tower Communications, who originally installed the equipment and who serviced it over the years is no longer in business to do so.
- 4) The availability of Direct and Dish TV to our community renders our system obsolete, even if in perfect condition.
